Comprehensive Consulting Options

When you need a scientific or technical consultant for process assessment and improvement, research and analysis, product development, or patent evaluation, TASconsulting can help by identifying and providing independent consultants with deep domain expertise—quickly and cost-effectively.

The Specialists and Subspecialists You Need

With thousands of experienced consultants in TASconsulting's multi-disciplinary, national network, we can drill down through vertical specialties to locate the precise talent you require. In addition to engineers and scientists, TASconsulting can connect you with professionals in many non-technical fields.

The TASconsulting Difference

TASconsulting is not a traditional consulting firm. We are committed to client success and satisfaction and deliver ongoing, responsive service, no matter what the size or duration of the job. TASconsulting clients enjoy these advantages:

Access to our continually-expanding network of independent experts, reflecting emerging technologies and industry trends

Personal assistance from TASconsulting's experienced referral specialists. Call or submit project details online, and they will work with you to refine your criteria and locate those consultants who meet your specifications.

Consideration of your time and budget, with no charge for our services unless you hire a consultant
